

Write one word or draw one thing to show what your fear is. Then screw it up or tear it and throw it away. Remember that perfect love casts out fear!